

Cookie policy

We use a technology called "cookies" as part of a normal business procedure to track patterns of behaviour of visitors to our site. Cookies are small files of information which save and retrieve information about your visit to ileero.com. We reserve the right to place session cookies during your visit, but these are destroyed once you leave the site. By using this site, you agree to our use of cookies as described below.

What cookies do we use and for what reasons?

Cookies exist at various levels and serve a variety of purposes. Some of the cookies we use are at system level. These maintain a session user ID for security reasons.

Some cookies are classed as essential in that they are needed to allow you to navigate the website, access the most relevant version (e.g. mobile) and let you use some of the features we provide, such as polls and surveys.

We also use visitor or performance cookies to understand what interests our users, help us improve how our website works, and measure how effective our website is. For example, these cookies track how many users access our site and how often, show how you entered our site, navigated through the site, and what information was of interest to you, and measure any errors you may have encountered. They also identify categories of visitors by items such as IP address, domain, and browser type pages visited. This is statistical data about our users' browsing actions and patterns and does not identify any individual.

However, if you have completed a form on our site, or asked us to get in touch with you, we may combine this information with information from our web analytic services and cookies to analyse how you use the site in more detail.

Controlling or disabling cookies

If you are not comfortable with our use of cookies, you can control and manage your cookie settings in various ways. Most browsers give you the option to see what cookies you have, and allow you to accept or reject all, or certain, cookies. This is usually set through your privacy settings. Please bear in mind that if you remove or block cookies, it might affect how you use our site, and make parts of it less accessible or usable.

We track the usage of our website through Google Analytics. You can opt-out of having your browsing activity within websites recorded by analytics cookies without affecting how you visit our site. For more information on opting out of being tracked by Google Analytics visit this Google page. If you would like more detailed information on the cookies we use, please contact us.
